[L. S.] MRS. MOLLIE WOODWARD.
Date of San Francisco, July 17th, A. D. 1885.

On the following day the money was given back to Mrs. Woodward by the attorney, but he does not know whether she retained it or not. While this plot, which was arranged in San Francisco, ignominiously failed, other similar ones were successfully carried out in Salt Lake City. Notes like the following were sent to conspicuous officials:

SALT LAKE, July 23, 1885.
JUDGE MCKAY:—DEAR SIR: If convenient, I would be pleased to have you call and see me this afternoon or about dusk this evening. I want to see you on particular business. Please answer by messenger boy when you will call. Respectfully, MRS. FIELDS.
250 West Temple street, south.

Every effort was made to decoy the intended victims, and prior arrangements were perfected with the municipal police to have their movements watched. Circumstances have come to light which show that several assignation houses in Salt Lake City are subsidized by the Church and managed under its direction.

A MORMON PLOT.

A Scheme Worked in this City to Entrap Gentiles.

The strenuousness of the Federal prosecution of offenders against the law for the suppression of polygamy in Utah has driven the Mormon leaders to desperation. It is not surprising that conspiracies are now heard of to turn its edge against prominent Gentiles, and that very clever preparations have been made for carrying out this policy. Not the least interesting phase of the matter is the fact that a certain woman, long notorious in San Francisco for her lack of virtue and for her reckless acts, was selected as the chief tool of the plotters. Recently a long list of Gentiles and apostates, who were marked for arrest under the law forbidding irregular cohabitation, was made out by the worthies of the Church. One of the first victims was a Deputy United States Marshal named Vandercook, and he was brought on Monday before Bishop Spiers, a Mormon wearer of the judicial ermine. The proceedings were interrupted by a writ of habeas corpus, which commanded the production of the prisoner before the United States District Court, and an indefinite postponement of the matter resulted.

MOLLIE WOODWARD AGAIN.

Now comes the explanation of the affair. It appears that this raid upon the Gentiles and fallen Saints has been expected for a long time. The conspiracy sprouted and grew in San Francisco. Some time in last July a lawyer and State Senator in this city wrote to Salt Lake to warn a prominent Federal official of what was on foot. A woman of the demi-monde, who is by far too well known under the name of Mollie Woodward, came to his office and consulted him as to an offer which had been made to her. She was to entrap intended victims into the commission of acts that are contrary to the Federal law, and she was to receive $700 cash upon signing a contract agreeing to do this. Upon every conviction of the offense in question she was to be paid a bonus of $100. The person who had approached her with this proposition was a disreputable man named Goldstone. The attorney advised her to have a meeting with this person at a certain restaurant and at a certain hour, and arranged to be in the box adjoining the one they were to occupy. He overheard the conversation. A contract was produced by Goldstone, and both he and she signed it. Then the attorney suddenly stepped into the private cabinet. Goldstone was in the act of paying over the sum of money agreed upon. The lawyer seized both the money and the contract. Goldstone was thoroughly frightened and disappeared.

AN INFAMOUS CONTRACT.

A copy of this precious document is as follows:
This agreement, made and entered into on this 17th day of July, A. D. 1885, at the city of San Francisco, in the county of San Francisco and State of California, between Daniel Goldstone, party of the first part, and Mollie Woodward, party of the second part, of the same place aforesaid; wherein it is mutually agreed and understood that the said Mollie Woodward, party of the second part, for and in consideration of the sum of seven hundred dollars ($700), to her in hand paid, the receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, agrees to go with the said Daniel Goldstone to the city of Salt Lake, leaving here on Saturday, the 18th day of July, A. D. 1885, and while with him on said trip,
